THE SALT HABIT.

People Generally Overtax Their System by the Excessive Use.

The use of salt as a condiment is so general and so universally believed in as necessary that we rarely hear a word against its excessive use but there are a multitude of persons who eat far too much salt; eat it on everything—on meat, fish, turnips, potatoes, melons, in butter, on tomatoes and squashes, in bread and on a host of foods too numerous to mention. To so great an extent it is used that no food is relished which has not a salty taste and this hides more or less, the real taste, which is very often delicate.

Now the amount of salt required in the system is comparatively small, and if the diet has been rightly compounded, very little is necessary. Some go as far as to discard its use altogether, but whether this is wise or not we will not here consider.

What are some of the evils of the excessive use of salt? They are to paralyze the nerves of taste, or to pervert them so that they cannot enjoy anything which has not a salty flavor, and in addition there is a direct tax of both the skin and kidneys in removing it from the blood. Whether the skin is harmed by this tax we do not know. Possibly it is greatly injured, yet we know that few people possess a healthy skin; but it is pretty well settled that an excessive use of salt does overtax the kidneys in its removal, and that the great number of cases of derangement and disease of these organs is due to this use. It takes only a little time to learn to enjoy many kinds of food without salt, and we advise our readers and others to look into this matter and to try and diminish the use of this condiment as far as possible. We believe they will be better for it.

Uses Lots of Matches.

"You would be surprised at the number of matches we use in a year," said a Congress street cigar dealer this morning. "The amount of money represented by those matches is also a matter of surprise to the uninitiated. We keep a box of matches, as you notice, on the case here, for the benefit of our customers. It's a very expensive habit, as you would quickly see, if you were to stand behind this counter for a few hours.

"It's a funny thing, but every man who makes a purchase here, seeing the box of matches, puts his hand in and grabs from three to 20. It doesn't matter whether a man happens to have his pockets full already. Whenever he sees a box full of lucifers he seems to have an irresistible desire to have more."

Death of Meville Stacey.

Meville Stacey, Esq., of West Somerville, Mass., and a native of Eliot, died at his residence on Monday morning, Jan. 3, after an illness of three years caused by paralysis, and aged fifty-four years. His family moved from Eliot to Boston when he was quite young. He entered Harvard college in 1863 and was graduated in 1867. He studied later in the office of Perry and Endicott. He was admitted to the Suffolk bar in 1870. The funeral occurs on Thursday afternoon, and interment will be at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Will Build 500 Freight Cars

The Laconia car company works of Laconia has contracted with the Boston and Maine railroad to construct 500 freight cars, 300 of them to be coal cars and 200 flat cars.

The car company will begin operations Feb. 1. This means steady work for four months.

Preparations for resumption of work in all the departments of the plant are in progress.

He Settled.

The fellow who broke into Landlord Cotton's hotel at Farmington Monday night and was caught in Dover yesterday by Sheriff Hayes, fixed the matter up with Mr. Cotton and he was released from jail. He replaced the locks on the door and repaired all the damage he did, besides paying all the expenses of his arrest.

Lively Runaway

The usual Market street runaway took place last evening in which the occupants of a sleigh narrowly escaped serious injury They have to thank Mr. Charles Folsom for his prompt and heroic work in stopping the runaway horse.

Miss Irma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells was being driven down Market street by John Varrell when both shaft bolts dropped out and let the shafts drop down on the horse's heels. This frightened the animal and he started on a terrific clip through the crowded street, just grazing several sleighs that were drawn up to the sidewalk. In front of F. L Wood's stove store Mr. Charles Folsom sprang to the horse's head and after a hard struggle succeeded in stopping him. The young lady was very much frightened and was nearly overcome by the excitement.

The Vicksburg Sails

The U. S. S. Vicksburg cast off her lines at the navy yard at 11 15 and quietly passed down into the harbor passing the U. S. S. Alliance just this side of the Narrows. As the Vicksburg left the dock her guns belched forth a salute of 11 guns to Commodore Remey's pennant and the yard battery responded with 7 guns for Commander Lillie's pennant. The Vicksburg got away very prettily and the Alliance made a neat landing at the stone house dock. The Allian e came up under her own steam, temporary repairs having been made to her boilers, and Commander Maney handled her with perfect ease. A ship never left a navy yard for a cruise in better shape than the Vicksburg, and Commander Lillie was warm in his praise of Comodore Remey and his assistants.

Reported Favorably

The selectmen of Newcastle have reported favorably for the laying out of an electric road through the streets named in the petition. Before the road is begun the management will await the hearing to be held in this city Jan. 31st, when a similar petition for location will be heard by the mayor and city councils. Should everything be favorable for a road in this city, orders will be placed at once for the necessary supplies for the equipment of an electric road in this city and Newcastle.

Found a Bank Book.

Washington Freeman found a bank book containing $100 in one of the stalls of his oyster house yesterday. The book was in the name of Charles Gafey and issued by the Strafford National Bank of Dover. Mr. Freeman communicated with the bank people and they said the man resided in this city, but the directory failed to give any such name.

PAPER HORSESHOES

The Latest Things in This Line Being Introduced Into This Country

Paper horseshoes are now being used by some of the Chicago blacksmiths. The horse shoers themselves are not responsible for the innovation, but it is due to some of the owners of fine horseflesh, who supply the paper shoes to the farriers, who fasten them to the horse's hoofs with nails in the usual manner. The horseshoes are made of paper impregnated with oil or turpentine to make them waterproof. The shoes are the invention of a German. They are now being made, however, by an Eastern firm, which is finding a ready sale for them among the owners of fine horseflesh. After being saturated with oil or turpentine the paper is glued together in thin layers with a cement which does not become brittle when drying, being a mixture of Venetian turpentine, powdered chalk, linseed oil and lacquer. The holes through which the nails are driven to fasten the shoes to the hoof are stamped through the paper when moist. Then the shoe is placed under a hydraulic press and subjected to a strong pressure.

When fitting the shoe to the hoof it can be filed or planed to fit as snugly as may be necessary. The shoes made of paper are said to be stronger and better than those made of iron. Another advantage claimed is that a horse wearing paper shoes is not likely to slip when traveling slippery roads.

At the Depot

Conductor Goodwin's train from the mountains came through from the mountains last evening to this city owing to the delay of the Portland train.

The passenger stations on the Y. U. & B. R. R. have been boarded up for the winter months.

Station Agent Grant gave a force of snow shovelers a day's work today.

The "Flying Yankee" due at 7.30 p. m did not arrive until 8.50 owing to the heavy snow storm.

The regular freight to York on Fridays will commence running this week.

The talk of equipping the York line with electricity is now receiving the attention of the higher officials of the road.

Been Reading "Chimmie Fadden"

"How dare you use such ribald language?" demanded the Boston schoolteacher, who had just been reading "Chimmie Fadden" She was interrogating the new scholar concerning his surname.

"Tell me," she continued, with severity, "what is your last name?"

"Waehtel," replied the urchin, as before, but in round-eyed astonishment.

The teacher, in great indignation, was about to send the scholar home, when a bright boy piped up: "Please, Miss Winthrop, he don't spell it W-o-t-'e-l-l."—Boston Record.

A Child's Prayer

"A friend of mine has a little girl who has been in the habit of saying the Lord's prayer and then of praying individually by name for the members of her family. The other evening she was very tired. She said the opening prayer and then besought that "all hands" should be blessed. An older sister who heard the petition with some disgust said "Anyone would think it was a shoe factory she was praying for," but the little one was too tired to pay any attention.—Seen and Heard in Boston Record.

Making the Snow Fly

Harry Beacham gave the boys a surprise yesterday with his new flyer a handsome gray and Billy Entwistle gave some of the old timers a clean pair of heels with his little bay. Harry Ridge had several lively brushes and John Hill was out with his pacer and made the snow fly on the speedway. The boys appeared to keep clear of each other and there were no real tests of speed in a race. Chesley and Coleman are expected out this week with their steppers.

There is probably no transportation company that gets out more unique and attractive advertising than the Plant System, and none has a greater foundation for such advertising in the way of attractive resorts. It traverses the entire western half of Florida and reaches all the winter resorts of the West Coast including the Tampa Bay Hotel, which cost between two and three million dollars. Then there is the Hotel Belleview at Belleair, a perfect gem and one that met with unprecedented success its first season, last year. Still further south are the Punta Gorda and New Fort Myers hotels in the very heart of hunting and fishing, the best in the state especially for Tarpon fishing. The latest addition to the Plant System publications is the "Gun and Rod" which will be out in a few days, and can be obtained at their office 290 Washington treet, Boston.

The State Boulevard

Civil Engineer Arthur W. Dudley has completed the survey for the ocean boulevard, from Hampton river to the fish houses at the north beach. The amount of land taken will be 100 feet wide, and the driveway will probably be 24 feet. From Hampton river the road will run close to the shore, and in widening the present sea road north of the causeway it will be widened toward the ocean side. The greatest expense will be in building a bridge across Hampton river, which would have to be 4000 feet long. Mr. Dudley intends to push the work through this winter if possible. Senator Chandler has agreed to try to get assistance from Washington towards the building of the road, as a benefit to the life saving stations.

At the Navy Yard.

Commander A. H. B. Lillie, U. S. N., of the Vicksburg, returned yesterday from a three day's trip to New York.

The new commander of the Alliance was given command today when Commander Maney delivered the ship over to Commander Albert Ross, U. S. N.

The employes of the yard were paid their semi-monthly stipend today.

Frank Cousins has been required on the yard.

Commander Lillie and officers attended the party given by the Misses Johnson at Rivermouth hall last evening.

The machinists, riveters and chippers and calkers employed on the Vicksburg have finished their labors for the present.

Margaret Mather.

One of the most attractive engagements of the season at Music hall will be that of Miss Margaret Mather and her company on Thursday evening. This favorite artist will be seen in her now famous production of Shakespeare's tragedy "Cymbeline," which is credited on all sides with being the most costly, artistic and accurate production of a work of the master playwright ever made in America. This, together with Miss Mather's marked popularity here, ensures for her one of the most successful engagements of the season in this city.

Delay Would Be Dangerous.

"According to this cablegram, they were married in Paris yesterday," he said.

"We must send our congratulations at once," she returned.

"By mail or cable?" he asked.

"From what I know of both of them," she replied, "we ought to send them by cable if we wish to be sure that they will be acceptable when they reach them."—Chicago Post.

One Honest Husband.

A society man, middle aged and handsome, who was married not so long ago, was asked by his wife why he had allowed himself to become 38 years old before he centered his affections upon any woman long enough to marry her.

"Well," he answered reluctantly, "it was this way: No man was ever so susceptible as I am. My whole family was kept on the alert to prevent my marriage before I was 18. I simply fell heels over head in love with every girl I met.

"My father grew tired of circumventing my matrimonial tendencies and put me out on the road. My territory covered the whole western continent. Two consecutive days were never permitted to pass without my receiving a telegram to move on.

"I never suspected but that I was doing an enormous business, and insisted at intervals on having my salary raised. I would no sooner get on friendly terms with a lady than along would come that notice to keep going. At last I tired of the endless chase, insisted on becoming stationary for a time and came here to run a branch establishment. You know, dear, that we were engaged in two weeks."

"And was it more than a dozen girls that you were in love with before you met me?"

"Hundreds of them."

"What a good thing I didn't know!"—St. Louis Republic.

A Great Smoke.

A gentleman well known in turf circles made a curious wager in the year 1860, in which he backed himself to smoke one pound weight of strong foreign regalias within 12 hours. The conditions were that the cigars should be smoked one at a time to within an inch of the end, the backer of time, as in the case of some pigeon matches, finding the weeds.

The match was decided on a Thames steamer plying between London and Chelsea, the smoker taking up a position well forward in the bows, where he caught the force of all the breeze that was blowing. The cigars ran 100 to the pound, so that about eight an hour had to be consumed to win the wager. A start was made at 11 o'clock in the morning, and the affair was finished shortly after 7 in the evening.

In the course of 9 hours and 20 minutes 86 cigars were fairly smoked, the greatest number consumed being in the second hour, when the smoker disposed of no fewer than 16. At the eighty-sixth cigar when 14 only remained to be smoked, the backer of time gave in, finding that the smoker was certain to win, and the latter puffed the remainder away at his leisure in the course of the same evening.—Strand Magazine

BABY'S SMOOTH, FAIR SKIN

A Grateful Mother Writes this Letter—Tells all about Her Troubles when Baby Broke out with Scrofula Sores.

"At the age of two months, my baby began to have sores break out on his right cheek. We used all the external applications that we could think or hear of, to no avail. The sores spread all over one side of his face. We consulted a physician and tried his medicine, and in a week the sore was gone. But to my surprise in two weeks more another scrofulous looking sore appeared on baby's arm. It grew worse and worse, and when he was three months old, I began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. I also took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before the first bottle was finished, the sores were well and have never returned. He is now four years old, but he has never had any sign of those scrofulous sores since he was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, for which I feel very grateful. My boy owes his good health and smooth, fair skin to this great medicine." MRS. S. S. WROTEN, Farmington, Delaware. Get only Hood's.

Used to Visit Portsmouth

Andy Freedman, who now enjoys a salary of $10,000 per annum as manager of the New York baseball club, used to come to Portsmouth as salesman for a New York cloak manufacturing house, and he was a shrewd, sharp and successful salesman, too. Inasmuch as he is Croker's right hand man, and Tammany is always sure to remember those who help it, he may be safely set down as sure to receive a pretty substantial plum in Mayor Van Wyck's New Year's distribution.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1898.

Japan is the Kid McCoy of the nations.

The only safe place to put a New Year's resolution is in a cold storage warehouse.

Many of the New Year resolutionists are already struggling with the "sober" second thought.

Anybody wanting wheat should address a communication to Joey Leiter, Chicago, inclosing stamp for a reply.

Actor Ratcliffe, the matinee hero that his wife, is now starring in the melodrama, "Six Months on Blackwell's Island."

The Pelican Rapids Press advises us to "try the Klondike for the best 5c cigar in the market," but that is an awful distance to travel after a cigar.

With the dawn of the New Year, old New York became a thing of the past, and Greater Croker was ushered in amid the fizz of rockets and the boom of cannon.

The Chicago police simply laugh at the talk of the abduction of Mrs. Luetgert, dead or alive, so strong are they in their belief of Schaack, the police inspector who has had charge of the case, and has offered $20.000 of his own funds to anybody who will bring the woman in.

If J. D. Rockfeller wants to have his gifts to Chicago University devoted to the most practical and humane purpose we should advise him to direct part of it and devote the same in part at least, to succoring students who are in actual need of food. This we say on the basis of Pres. Harper's own statement that three of his pupils, undergraduates, have died from starvation, actual, bonafide starvation during the past year. It looks as if a course in common sense hygiene and humanitarianism might be broadened a little.

WOODLAND HOUSEKEEPERS.

What They Do In October to Prepare For the Winter.

Have you ever seen the weasel carry his winter food to his den? If you meet him in the woods, watch him at work. No one could be more methodical. He brings his food to the entrance of his home and suddenly pops into the round hole in the ground that serves him as a doorway. Not to alarm him, go quietly to the entrance and stand perfectly still. He will continue to work, with no show of annoyance at your presence. Whatever food he may have brought he will lay it near his door, go in, turn around and then reach out to drag in the dainty after him.

The chipmunk is another busy house keeper. He works on much the same plan as the weasel, and to and fro he will hasten on the still days of October, seeming to understand the advantage of toiling while the winds and sky are favorable. In storing his provisions the chipmunk is far more careful than the red squirrel, and he is also more particular about furnishing his home. He selects the dry maple leaves or those of the plane tree and stuffs them carefully into his cheek pockets to carry them to his den. When he cannot find enough nuts or grain, this provident little housekeeper chooses something else.

We know of two chipmunks that were observed by a student of animals while they were gathering cherry pits from under a cherry tree near the student's house. As he preferred watching the workers to disturbing them, they grew most friendly and were full of joy at the unusual luxury that they were laying up for themselves. They gathered the seeds of the sugar maple also, and, as many of the keys were yet on the trees, although the leaves had fallen, the chipmunks harvested them by running swiftly out upon the ends of the small branches reaching for the maple keys, snipping off the wings and deftly slipping the nut or samara into their cheek pockets.—Our Animal Friends.

HANNA IS TWO SHORT

Senatorial Prize Just Beyond His Reach at Present.

THE INDICATIONS FAVOR TRIUMPH.

Two of the Bolters Declare They Will Support Hanna.

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—While there are said to be only nine dissenters among the 80 Republican members, one in the senate and eight in the house, yet the really doubtful list is limited to two or three. Some of the dissenting Republicans are not likely ever to be reconciled to Hanna. They have burned their bridges behind them and openly admit it.

Representatives Griffith of Union and Joyce of Guernsey, who voted with the "combine" on the organization of the house, state that they will vote for Hanna. This gives Hanna 54 in the house and 17 in the senate, a total of 71, or two short of the necessary majority. Droste of Hamilton, who votes for Boxwell for speaker, announced at the time he would vote for Gerrard, a silver Republican, for senator, so that the net gain for Hanna to date over the vote on the organization is only one.

The Hanna men say they expect to get the votes of Scott of Fulton and Sutan of Carroll, who are instructed for Hanna, but voted with the combine on the organization. On the other hand, the combination managers say that Scott and Rutan will remain with them to a finish, and that they expect to get Snider of Greene and Redkay of Highland, who voted for Boxwell for speaker. The doubtful members are being offered their choice of chairmanships and given opportunity to make other selections they want. The power of the organization of the house is candidly being used to the greatest possible advantage, and its influence is not to be underestimated in connection with the support of the state administration. While Mr. Kurtz and his assistants will make no statements, yet they are holding back the appointments on the committees and other patronage in anticipation of gaining several votes on the senatorial ballot.

In holding its men in line, "the combine" is having trouble with some of the 65 Democratic members. It is believed that Mayor McKisson will give way to Kurtz for the short term for senator, while Governor Bushnell has all along been regarded as the candidate for the long term. Representatives Wiley of Wayne, Powell of Morrow, Niles of Lucas and other radical free silver Democrats are not satisfied with Kurtz and Bushnell, and if they are to vote for Republicans, they want them with pronounced silver records like that of Gerrard and others that are named. Some of the Democratic members insist that the breach is so wide and so deep now between the Republicans that John R. McLean or some other free silver Democrat can be elected over Hanna.

The announcement by the Republicans that they would have no joint senatorial caucus tonight or at any time previous to the balloting for senator will compel all to continue in this guerilla warfare for another week, but with the result depending on the action of two or three doubtful members, neither side could show its hands without exposing the recruits or the deserters to a terrific fire for at least a week.

The senate and the house will ballot separately next Tuesday for senator. The senate will stand 19 to 17 against Hanna by Senator Burke voting with the Democrats. The house on Monday stood 56 to 55. It is now 55 to 54 against Hanna. This will settle the contest if "the combine" in both houses can concentrate on any one candidate against Hanna, and when the two houses meet on the following day, Jan. 12, to canvass in joint assembly, the vote of the previous day as cast by each branch separately there would be nothing to do except to announce the total result of 74 to 71 against Hanna; but if Hanna has not a majority a week hence it is doubtful whether any opponent will have it, and the general prediction is for a deadlock. In the event that the balloting next Tuesday does not show a majority for anyone, the general assembly will proceed on the next day to ballot in joint assembly and continue to do so until there is an election. The balloting may not do any more than to compel the contestants to show their names on rollcall, and after that the same fight may be continued for an indefinite period.

"The combine" is charging that Hanna is in such straits as to be forced "to swap horses" while crossing the stream, owing to Republicans deciding to hold no caucus. They also charge that he has been an ex-senator since the legislature met Monday. As Senator Hanna was appointed when Secretary Sherman went into the cabinet, article 2, section 2, of the statutes is being quoted as follows: "If vacancies in the senate happen by resignation or otherwise during the recess of the legislature of any state, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies."

While this talk about Ohio now having only one senator proceeds, the Hanna men explain that they want the same action now as was accorded Senator Foraker two years ago. Foraker had been endorsed at the Zanesville state convention in 1895 for senator and was elected without any caucus of any Republican opposition in the legislature. The Hanna men say they ask that the same "courtesy and loyalty" now prevail. The plank in the Republican state platform adopted at Toledo last June is being freely cited. It is as follows: "The thanks of the people of this state are due to Senators Foraker and Hanna for their splendid efforts during the present session of congress, and we congratulate the people of the state and nation. We endorse the candidacy of Marcus A. Hanna for United States senator to succeed himself, and pledge the support of the party in the next general assembly to his election to both the short and the long terms."

In the house all sorts of bills have been introduced against corporations. These measures were regarded as thrusts at Senator Hanna, whose business interests are varied. An amendment to the Nichols law, which taxes the earnings of express, telegraph, telephone and other companies, was introduced so as to include street railways, electric light and power equipment, artificial and natural gas, sleeping car and all other corporations. There is also a bill to repeal the law for a new state house. This is regarded as returning the compliment to the Columbus people who have expressed their disapprobation of the course of Governor Bushnell. While these measures were being presented, a delegation of 350 from Springfield, the home of Governor Bushnell, marched into the state house wearing Hanna badges and with banners bearing several inscriptions, and called on Governor Bushnell. In response to their protests the governor made a speech in which he said that he reserved the right to his individual opinions and preferences. He expressed the belief that the members of the house and senate should settle the question of a senator, and that all others should remain out of the fight.

TWO RECRUITS DESERT.

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—Late last night the Hanna managers lost the two doubtful members that they had gained in the day, so that there is now no material change from that of Monday, when the house stood 56 to 53 against Hanna. This would give the senator only 70 votes on joint ballot, or three less than enough to elect.

In connection with the change of Representative Griffith back to the anti-Hanna camp, sensational reports are in circulation. Last night he made a statement, in which he said: "While I at various times during the campaign and since declared my intention to vote for Mr. Hanna and even promised a dozen or more of my constituents in Mr. Hanna's headquarters on Monday of this week that I would do so, I have, however, since learning the particulars of the indignities heaped upon my wife Monday morning reached the conviction that I would be untrue to my manhood should I cast my vote for a man who either uses or employs such methods, and shall resent the indignities and insults heaped upon myself and friends, and also do a service for my state and country by voting for a Republican other than Mr. Hanna for United States senator."

TRAIN ROBBERS.

Messenger Bound and a Safe Rifled of All It Contained.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 5.—The Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad's Port Arthur express, which left here at 6:40 last night, was robbed before it had passed beyond the city limits. Two men climbed into the express car as the train left the depot, overpowered the messenger, bound and gagged him, and rifled the car before the train came to a stop. When the train slowed up at Air Line Junction the men climbed out of the car and disappeared. Nothing was known of the robbery until a train porter entered the car and found the helpless express messenger.

After the train had been stopped and others of the crew had released the messenger it was found that the robbers had rifled the local safe, taking from it everything of value. They had made no effort to disturb the through safe, which is protected by a time lock. At the express company's office here the manager stated that there was not much of value in the safe, and that $200 or $300 would probably cover the company's loss. In police circles, however, the impression is that the robbers secured several thousand dollars in money and jewelry. The messenger offered no resistance, though he was well armed, and after the robbers had bound him, one of the two stood guard over him while the other rifled the safe. The robbers are described as smooth faced young men, and the fact that both were extremely nervous while in the car is taken as evidence that they are new recruits to Kansas City's force of bandits.

Last night's robbery is the sixth perpetrated in Kansas City within 15 months. There have been several arrests of alleged robbers during this period, but there has not been a single conviction.

NEW LONDON COURSE.

New Haven, Jan. 5.—An interview with Professor Huffcut of Cornell, a member of the athletic advisory board of that college, inviting Yale to row at Lake Cayuga, near Ithica, and promising the Yales that their expenses would be paid if they would row there, occasioned some comment here. Bob Cook, Yale's coach, said: "By the terms of the five years' Yale-Harvard agreement the two colleges are to row at New London this year. That is settled, and Lake Cayuga is out of the question. I want to make one statement, however, relative to a remark sent out from Cornell in an interview. This declares that the first half mile of the course at New London is unfair, that the water is shallow and that the blades catch in the eel grass. The water is somewhat shallow; I grant that, but there is no eel grass whatever there, and there is none whatever on the new course we have surveyed at New London. The water is not shallow enough to bother the crews any there."

A FRENCH CLAIM.

Paris, Jan. 5.—Liberty asserts that Clipperton Island, over which the Mexican flag is reported to have been hoisted by a party of marines after the stars and stripes had been hauled down, really belongs to France, and adds: "Naturally the Americans have asked for the protection of their government, but it is France's duty to re-establish order in that island, adjudicate between the Americans and Mexicans, and demonstrate our own rights, which have never been contested."

ANTI-TRUST BILLS.

Albany, Jan. 5.—An anti-trust law framed to meet the objections that have been raised to previous legislation of this kind will be introduced early in the coming session of the legislature by Assemblyman Green of New York. He says that he has given the subject very careful study ever since it has been before the legislature, and believes that he has framed a bill that will stand all tests. Senator Cantor has bills of a similar nature which he will introduce in the senate.

FOUND ANOTHER NOTE.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—Another counterfeit certificate, making in all six of these worthless notes which have been found in this city during the past four weeks, was found Tuesday. The latest discovery has created quite a sensation among banking officials, and there has been an industrious search in financial circles to bring to light all of the real and spurious notes. Chief Hazen of the United States secret service bureau is in the city in conference with Superintendent McManus of the Philadelphia bureau. Neither would consent to be interviewed concerning the counterfeiting.

GREAT AND GENERAL COURT.

Legislature of Massachusetts Begins its Annual Session in Boston.

Boston, Jan. 5.—The Massachusetts legislature, officially known as the great and general court, convened at the state house today, the two branches meeting in their respective chambers, where, after the members were sworn in by Governor Wolcott, the officers for the ensuing year were chosen. The ceremonies attending the organization of both branches differed little from those of previous years, and the day passed off in the quiet and orderly manner which has become noteworthy of this state.

Perhaps the chief event of the day was the meeting of the senate in its permanent chamber in the rejuvenated Bulfinch front, this marking the practical completion of the state house. George E. Smith of Everett was elected president of the senate, and John L. Bates of Boston the speaker of the house for the third successive year. The other officers of both bodies were also elected without opposition.

As the senate caucus, the only one necessary for the filling of a vacancy, was held last evening, the members had nothing to attract them to the summit of Beacon hill until just before the time set for the opening exercises; yet before 9 o'clock a number appeared in the long and spacious corridors of the annex, and strolled through the new rooms of the Bulfinch front. Not a few welcomed Governor Wolcott when he arrived shortly before 10 o'clock at the executive department. By this time fully two-thirds of the members of both branches had arrived and whiled away the remaining hour, chatting in the smoking rooms, renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones.

The jingle of the call bells at 11 o'clock caused a general stampede to the two chambers, where the galleries had already become well filled with interested spectators. As the 40 senators ranged themselves about the shining mahogany desks, which form a horse-shoe in the center of the old hall of representatives, which henceforth becomes the senate chamber, there were many new faces to be seen and as many old ones to be missed. Clerk Coolidge called the senators to order at 11:10 a. m. and requested Josiah C. Bennett of Somerville, the senior senator, to take the chair. After the customary invocation had been made, a committee was appointed to wait upon the governor and inform him that the senate was ready to take the oath. Governor Wolcott soon after appeared, accompanied by his council, and the senators took the oath in a body.

The governor then retired and the senate at once proceeded to organize for the coming year. The election of the president resulted in the choice of Mr. Smith.

Henry Coolidge of Concord was re-elected clerk for his twelfth year and Rev. Edmund Dowse of Sherborn and Captain J. G. Adams of Lynn were also elected chaplain and sergeant-at-arms respectively. The message was then sent to the house that organization had been effected, and giving the list of the newly elected officers. A similar notification was received from that body. Last year's rules were ordered to stand until others might be adopted, and after a session of about two hours the senate adjourned until tomorrow.

The house was called to order by Clerk Kimball about the same time as the upper branch, and Francis F. Harlow of Whitman, the oldest representative, took the chair. As in the senate a committee was appointed to notify the governor that the members of the house were ready to comply with the law in taking the oath of office, and the same form was gone through with as in the senate. After the governor had retired the house proceeded to ballot for speaker, and John L. Bates received the unanimous vote of the body.

Further organization was made by the choice of James F. Kimball as clerk, Rev. Daniel W. Waldron of Boston as chaplain and Captain J. G. B. Adams of Lynn as sergeant-at-arms. After transacting minor business, the house adjourned until tomorrow.

Talking to Tennyson.

Arriving, I sent up my name and heard presently a rather heavy step in the adjoining room, and there stood in the doorway the most un-English looking man I had ever seen. He was tall and high shouldered, careless in dress, and, while he had a high and domed forehead, yet his brilliant eyes and tangled hair and beard gave him rather the air of a partially reformed Corsican bandit or else an imperfectly secularized Carmelite monk than of a decorous and well groomed Englishman. He greeted me shyly, gave me his hand, which was in those days a good deal for an Englishman, and then sidled up to the mantelpiece, leaned upon it and said, with the air of an aggrieved schoolboy: "I am rather afraid of you Americans. Your countrymen do not treat me very well. There was Bayard Taylor." And then he went into a long narration of some grievance incurred through an indiscreet letter of that well known journalist.

Strange to say, the effect of this curious attack was to put me perfectly at my ease. It was if I had visited Shakespeare and had found him in a pet because some one of my fellow countrymen had spelled his name wrong. I knew myself to be wholly innocent and to have no journalistic designs, nor did I ever during his lifetime describe the interview.—Colonel T. W. Higginson in Atlantic.

NEW YORK WIRINGS.

Thugs the Chief Offenders In Riots of Strikers.

APPRAISER IN ROLE OF PROPHET.

The Spot Where Revolutionary Blood Was Spilled First.

New York, Jan. 5.—General George Wingate, president of the National Guard association of the United States, delivered an address last night on "Mobs and Militia" before the Social Reform club. Among other things he spoke of the riots in Pittsburg and Homestead, and he declared that on those occasions, as well as in the case of most riots in which strikers are involved, the chief disturbance was caused by thugs, who took advantage of the condition to commit overt acts.

Of the militia he said: "The duty of the militiaman is always a hard and thankless one; yet as a rule he does his duty manly, proudly, never shirking, and every good citizen owes him at least kindly recognition."

RECEIPTS FROM CUSTOMS.

New York, Jan. 5.—United States Appraiser Wilbur F. Wakeman says: "I predict that the receipts from customs for this month will exceed the receipts of January, 1897, by $4,000,000; doubtless more." In the latter part of November Mr. Wakeman predicted a large increase in customs revenue for December, and the customs house report for that month more than justified the prediction.

REMARKABLE WILL.

New York, Jan. 5.—One of the most remarkable wills ever entered in the office of the surrogate is that of Henry Morehouse Taber. In spite of the fact that Mr. Taber was president and treasurer of the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian church, in the opening clauses of his will he denounces all religion as sham and as having its origin in superstition. He requests that no religious services be held over his body, and that it be cremated. Mr. Taber died Christmas eve at the age of 75 years. Two children survive the testator, and to them the entire estate, estimated at over $1,000,000, is given absolutely.

FIRST BLOOD OF REVOLUTION.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Daughters of the American Revolution say that they have discovered that the site of the general postoffice in this city marks the spot where the first blood of the American revolution was shed. The members of the Martha Washington Colonial chapter propose to erect a tablet there to commemorate their discovery. Mrs. John C. Hazen, the chairman of the chapter's tablet committee, conferred with Postmaster Van Cott for the purpose of getting the necessary permission.

DEATH OF WIDOW AYER.

New York, Jan. 5.—According to The Tribune Josephine Ayer, widow of Dr. James C. Ayer, died suddenly at her home in Paris Monday afternoon last. Mrs. Ayer, who was in comparatively good health last week, telegraphed on Saturday last New Year's greetings to her children, who live in this city. Mrs. Ayer was born in Medway, Mass., Dec. 15, 1825. Her father, Royal Southwick, was a man of an old-fashioned type of New England character. He was a member of the Society of Friends, and a well-to-do manufacturer of Lowell, Mass. He was a direct descendant of Lawrence and Cassandra Southwick, two names celebrated by the poetry of Whittier.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING.

New York, Jan. 5.—Henry O. Goldsmith, formerly a broker, for whom the police have been looking for some time, was held in $3600 bail Tuesday on the charge of swindling Oscar E. Teissier, a Brooklyn beadstead manufacturer, out of $3000 by a fraudulent Wall street transaction. Goldsmith is alleged to have conducted a bucket-shop business under various names.

CROOK GOES FOR TRIAL.

New York, Jan. 5.—Richard O. Davis, a notorious crook, arrested here Dec. 23 on the charge of stealing checks from letter boxes in Toledo, waived examination before United States Commissioner Shields and consented to go to Toledo for trial. The checks taken from the boxes, after being falsely endorsed, were cashed by Davis' confederates.

CITY HALL DISASTER.

London, Ont., Likely to Suffer in Suits for Damages.

London, Ont., Jan. 5.—The coroner's inquest on the city hall disaster began yesterday afternoon, but the proceedings were purely formal. One of the bodies was viewed by the jury, and then an adjournment was taken. The whole point of the inquest will turn on the liability of the city to the relatives and friends of the deceased. A number of architects will testify that the building was unsafe and should have been condemned. This will be the basis of the claims that will be made against the city.

Mayor-elect Wilson is much more seriously hurt than he permitted his friends to observe when he worked until nearly 1 o'clock among the wounded. He visited both hospitals, and with the other doctors did all in his power to relieve the sufferers, although he was suffering greatly from the wounds he received when on the floor. His left side was badly bruised and cut, and so, too, were his arms, legs and back. He is now confined to his bed.

Alderman-elect Cooper is reported to be in a serious condition, being injured internally.

A meeting of the council was held last evening, when measures were taken to relieve any financial distress caused by the accident, and to see that all funeral arrangements were carried out in a proper manner, the city guaranteeing all expenses.

Benjamin J. Nash, whose body was taken from the ruins badly mangled, was one of the most prominent citizens of London, being at the time of his death president of the Conservative association, and of St. George's society. John Turner, another of those killed, was also prominent in civic affairs, having served as alderman for a number of years.

The list of the dead numbers 25, but it is much to be feared that it is not yet complete. Many of the injured are not expected to recover, and many others will be confined to their beds days, weeks, and some for months. The list of injured can never be made entirely complete, in so far as the minor sufferers are concerned, as many are able to be about, though suffering from bruises as a result of their terrible fall. As one looks at the ruins today, the wonder is that there were so many escapes among the 300 persons who made the fearful drop. It was nothing short of miraculous that so many are alive. A fear prevails that the gallery of the hall, which is just above that portion of the wall which gave way, may also fall, but there is no one in the building, and ropes have been stretched along the street to prevent the passing of pedestrians.

City Engineer Graydon states that the cause of the accident was the breaking of the heavy beam which ran beneath the floor almost at the center of the space which gave way. This beam was composed of 12 3 by 4 timbers, securely joined together. The joists ran east and west from the beam, resting on the front and rear walls of the engineer's office. There was a space of 18 feet. The beam broke in the center, rolling all the people standing in this space into one mass. The engineer states that the supports of this floor were not taken away in making recent alterations. The wall where this joist ran was taken out in 1888. The engineer did not consider the hall dangerous, and says that the tremendous dead weight simply caused the beam to snap.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 5.—What promises to prove a serious split among the Republicans in the Maryland legislature developed yesterday, when an attempt was made to caucus for officers of the general assembly. Twelve of the 18 members from Baltimore refused to take part in the caucus, and the other Republicans met without them.

The recalcitrants are known as "malster" men, because they are adherents of that faction which recently dethroned Senator Wellington from the leadership of the party in the state and elected their candidate for mayor of Baltimore in spite of the regular organization's efforts to defeat him.

The action is looked upon as a protest against the proposed election of Judge McComas to the seat in the senate now occupied by A. P. Gorman, and it is asserted that the malsterites will combine with the Democrats and organize the lower house unless their demands are complied with.

WEAVERS ON STRIKE.

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 5.—At the weavers' headquarters Tuesday, two small strikes were reported as the result of the posting of the new list of prices in the Shove and King Philip mills. At the Shove, about 60 weavers left their looms, affirming that under the list as posted their wages would be reduced from $7.50 to $5.50. At the King Philip, the contention is made that on some kinds of goods the reduction is about 19 percent.

The mass meeting of weavers in Music hall was slimly attended. There were not many textile workers from other departments present either, and the proceedings were chiefly addresses and the adoption of a resolution pledging aid to the New Bedford operatives should they strike. The meeting was presided over by President John P. Downey of the Fall River union. Secretary James Whitehead of the local union, Secretary Matthew Hart of New Bedford and others spoke regarding the mill situation. The extent of the support to be given is undetermined. The meeting adjourned until the 12th, when another meeting will be held. It was explained that the slim attendance was due to a lack of notice to the weavers.

The strikers of the Shove stayed out long enough to appoint a committee to interview the mill officials, and then returned to their looms. The union will investigate the complaints.

FITZ WASN'T PRESENT.

Oskosh, Wis., Jan. 5.—"The statement to the effect that I was mixed up in a bar-room fight in Sheboygan Sunday night in which Attorney Hughes was injured by a blow from Edward B. Daniels, a comedian with my troupe, is a lie," said Robert Fitzsimmons. "I was not present when the trouble occurred. The trouble did not occur in the bar-room, but in the billiard hall of the hotel. I think it is a rank shame to connect my name with the affair, to make me out a bar-room loafer."

JOHN L. ENTERTAINED.

Middletown, N. Y., Jan. 5.—John L. Sullivan and his theatrical company gave a free performance at the state hospital for the insane Tuesday. Sullivan gave a short sparring exhibition, and the inmates of the hospital exhibited the wildest enthusiasm, shouting and cheering until the end of the exhibition. They called for a speech, and Sullivan said he was very glad to make them so happy, and hoped they would all soon be well and able to leave the institution.

AN IDIOTIC DECISION.

Strange Logic Employed by a Spanish-American Arbitrator.

RULED AGAINST TWO AMERICANS.

No Cognizance of Legal Questions In Considering Case.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The cause of arbitration in the settlement of claims between nations has received a severe check in the award by the arbitrator in the case of Oberlander and Messenger, who claimed $50,000 and $25,000, respectively, for ill-treatment by the Mexican authorities. The arbitrator was the Argentine minister at Madrid, Mr. Quesada, and his decision was in favor of the Mexican government and against the American claimants. The discouraging feature of the decision is that in making the decision the arbitrator apparently overlooked every point of law according to English standards, and decided the case with reference to his sympathies. It is said that a more extraordinary opinion than this from a legal point of view was never seen at the state department.

Oberlander was a deputy sheriff in California and was kidnapped and taken across the border by Mexican officers. Mrs. Messenger, in whose house he had taken refuge, was ill-treated. When it came to rendering the opinion the arbitrator, it is said, ignored the facts and reasoned that because the United States government had not recognized the rights of the Chinese government to indemnity for the killing of Chinese in Wyoming, while insisting upon indemnity for losses sustained by American missionaries in China, we could not expect to have an indemnity awarded our citizens in such cases as this.

This peculiar lack of legal perception is said at the department to be almost without a parallel in the history of arbitrations, and [illegible] much to prevent the submission of other claims to arbitration unless it can first be shown that the arbitrator is familiar with the principles of common law according to the English standards.

ORDER ON PENSIONS.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Pension Commissioner Evans has in preparation a circular letter to members of congress asking their cooperation in the order recently issued prohibiting the further consideration of pension claims until one year has elapsed from the date of last action. [illegible] was necessary because of the frequent calls of congressmen for a statement showing status of claims, which [illegible] the work of the bureau to such an extent as seriously to interfere with routine business. There are few instances where additional evidence of further disability occurs within a year, and, according to the new rule, the case may be taken up after that time, and if it contains additional evidence of such a character as to warrant a reopening of the case such action will be taken.

The commissioner has issued the following circular letter to special examiners: "You are hereby directed while in the performance of your regular duties to keep a close watch for any circular, circular letter, advertising circular, advertising card or advertisement used for the [illegible] of business or claims before this bureau, published by an attorney, agent or sub-agent in any newspaper, periodical or in pamphlet form, where such attorney, agent or sub-agent is practising before or preparing cases for filing in this bureau. In the investigation of claims, careful inquiry should be made of claimants and witnesses as to any printed or written matter in circular, letter or card form, received by them from attorneys, agents or subagents doing business before or in connection with this bureau."

SCRUPULOUS PENSIONERS.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Since the agitation concerning the publication of the list of pensioners has commenced, Commissioner Evans has received several letters from pensioners requesting a cancellation of their pensions. One pensioner in Michigan enclosed his certificate and stated his desire to have the same cancelled, as he was not entitled to the government's bounty. He added he would endeavor to return all the money drawn since 1865 when the pension was granted.

MATTERS IN GENERAL.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The belief is general that the president has not yet decided whom he will appoint as interstate commissioner. It was supposed for a time that Judge Paxson of Pennsylvania had been definitely determined upon, but the indications now are that the president will appoint a western man, probably a man from Illinois, if those interested can reach an agreement.

It is understood that Assistant Secretary Howell has practically decided that frozen herring caught by American fishermen off the Newfoundland coast and brought into American ports should be admitted free of duty. Instructions to this effect probably will be sent out very soon.

Aside from the civil service matter, no question of general importance was discussed at the cabinet meeting. The senatorial situation in Ohio was alluded to, and the president expressed not only his deep concern in the result, but also his belief that Mr. Hanna would succeed himself.

A fire totally destroyed the stable and sheds of David E. Finch, an East Norwalk, Conn., truckman and contractor. Twelve horses were roasted to death and all of the contractor's trucks and apparatus were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $15,000; insurance, $5000.

ORIENTAL WOMEN WEAVERS.

None Can Surpass Them In Making Tapestries and Carpets.

The somewhat popular conception of the oriental woman is rather erroneous. It is that of one who is destined to a life of utter luxury. Yet the simple truth is that the large majority of women in the east work quite as hard for their daily bread as do their sisters in the west—aye, even harder, for, as a rule, married women in the west are supported by their husbands, whereas in the east married women are, as a rule, constrained to support not only themselves, but also their husbands and children.

This statement applies especially to the thousands of women in Turkey, Persia and other countries of the orient who make a living as weavers. The whole civilized world appreciates their handiwork, for none can match them in making tapestries, carpets and other gorgeous products of the loom. This is the age of machinery, but no machine has yet been invented which can do the marvelous work of these oriental weavers. Yet many of these women work for pitiful wages. After cleaning and preparing the wool and shaping it into a lovely piece of tapestry, all they receive is the equivalent of from 2 shillings to 4 shillings a week. The woman who can earn 7 francs is considered a Crœsus, and her husband esteems her so much that he never dreams of beating her. The money is always paid to the husband, and he invariably appropriates it.

They are very womanly, these weavers. Of gossip they are fond, and while they are at work their tongues are constantly going. Perhaps this is one reason why they have so obstinately refused to herd together in factories, where the constant whir of machinery, not to speak of the surveillance of a foreman, would very probably compel them to keep silent. In order to fashion a first class carpet or piece of tapestry the weaver must not only have a memory which will prevent her from making the slightest mistake while copying the design, but she must also possess a lively imagination and a thoroughly developed artistic sense, for the first class weaver does not copy; she creates. She invents her own designs, she combines the various tones, she chooses the dyes and the shades, and finally she obtains those effects which seem so charming to us of the west, and with good reason.—London Mail.

Necessary Material.

"Yes, I've got lots of fresh material for my new story."

"What is it?"

"Pens, ink and paper."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

How much property a man will leave when he dies depends largely upon his health. The man who suffers from ill-health stands little show of being a successful business man. The man who comes to his desk in the morning with a headache, who suffers all day from dullness and drowsiness, who goes to his meals without an appetite and tosses restlessly through the night without sleep, is not likely to leave a competence for his widow and orphans. Success is even more dependent upon health than upon ability.

Few men realize these truths. They think that everything can be accomplished by work, and that health is a secondary consideration. Work is useless unless it is good work, and good work is never done save by a thoroughly healthy man. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all health restorers and health preservers. It makes the stomach strong and active. It sends a man to his meals thoroughly hungry every time. It facilitates the flow of digestive juices and makes assimilation perfect. It invigorates the liver. It purifies the blood and fills it with the life-giving elements of the food. It is the great blood maker and flesh-builder. It tears down inert, half-dead tissues and builds new, firm, muscular flesh. It does not build flabby fat like cod liver oil and does not make people more corpulent.

Mr. John Brooks of Boylston, Mass., writes: "I write to tell you of the great benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs. The doctors said I was in consumption and could not get well. I took Cod Liver Oil and it did me no good. After taking it four months I heard of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it saved my life."

EASILY PROVEN.

Because It's a Portsmouth News Item and About a Portsmouth Citizen.

The reader has not to go to Kalamazoo, Mich, or Duluth, Minn., for proof. It can be procured in abundance in Portsmouth. This particular instance occurred at 7 Rock street, the residence of Mr John Fagan. What more can the most skeptical want? Mr. Fagan says: "I never had any trouble with my kidneys until just before I obtained a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's pharmacy, in Franklin block. I was taken ill at once with a very severe pain in the loins, and it kept up a constant aching. Often it was so sore that it took my breath away to straighten up after bending forward, and my head reeled, or I was seized with dizziness that almost obscured my vision. I brought the trouble on me by lifting heavily, and I did not expect to get rid of it. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try them. Before I had taken the whole box I began to feel better. Soon the pain left me for good and I have not had the slightest indication of a return."

Dartmouth Glee Club

The Dartmouth College Glee, Mandolin and Guitar clubs, who have to appear at Music hall this evening, are acknowledged to be worthy of the patronage of all lovers of music. The Mandolin club, under the leadership of Mr Leggett, who has had charge of it for the past two seasons, is second to no similar organization. The Glee club is better than ever and Mr Crane, with considerable experience before New England audiences, has chosen selections which will make a lively and attractive program. College and campus songs are a rarity.

Remembered the Life Savers

For the past few years, or since the organization of the Life Saving system in New Hampshire the crews at this time of the year have been remembered in a worthy manner by Mrs Kennard, who resides at 8 Middle street. A box has been made ready this year by Mrs Kennard and a friend from New York, containing caps, mittens and many other articles of use to the men.

TAPPED THE TILL.

After Many Successful Visits Walter Smart Comes to Grief

He Escapes From Hodgkins But is Tracked Through the Snow to His Home.

Another well known young man of this city has gone wrong and by a most clever piece of work by two of the night officers in which the details read something like a dime novel, the culprit was landed behind the bars.

Walter N. Smart, 19 years of age, is the young man who was tempted and thereby has fallen from grace. He is well known in this city, especially among the fellows of his own age and the bicycle riders around town, he being somewhat of a racing man, and took active part in a number of the race meets at the bicycle park last summer.

He was employed last spring at W. W. McIntire's bicycle store on High street as repairman, but during the summer was employed at Philbrick's bicycle store.

For some time past Mr. McIntire has been missing money from his money drawer. It was in small amounts, being only a dollar or two at a time, but it was two or three times a week. He was at a loss to account for the missing money and it was some time before it dawned upon him that it must be taken by some one who had a pass key to the store.

He quickly made up his mind what to do, and securing the services of Special Officer Robert E. Hodgkins, that officer, together with Mr. Edward Piper, have watched in the store for the past four nights.

Last night their efforts were rewarded for shortly before eleven o'clock a young man walked up to the door and without any hesitation whatever, inserted a key in the lock, unlocked the door and stepped into the store. Mr. Hodgkins, who was in the rear room, immediately started out to capture the would be robber, but accidentally knocking something over he made a noise that frightened the young man who bolted out of the door and slammed it too right in the officer's face. With one wrench Bob tore the door open but the fellow was half way to the corner by this time running like a deer. Fear of capture and disgrace lent wings to his feet and closely pursued by the officer, he dashed across the Parade, through Church street as far as Court to the rear of the city buildings where he easily gave the officer the slip.

Here is where the newly fallen snow played a prominent part in the capture of the young man and by closely following his footprints the officers traced him right to his own door and left no doubt as to the guilty party. Officers Burns and McCaffery were the two who so cleverly traced the unfortunate young man to his home and found him in bed.

He readily accompanied the officers to the station house where he admitted that he was the one who unlocked Mr. McIntire's store door but claimed he could fix things with that gentleman without any trouble.

During the day through the efforts of his father who made good all the loss sustained by Mr. McIntire, Smart was released. He was told by the marshal before he was released that he would let him go on probation but if he was caught in any further trouble he would be brought before the court and tried on this complaint.

Sues for $3000 Damages

Thomas Gresham, through his attorney J. W. Kelley, brought suit this morning against the Portsmouth Gas and Electric Light company for the recovery of $3000, damages alleged to have been sustained by him last October. Gresham, who is a coal shoveler, was employed by the Messrs. Walker at their coal pocket at the north end. On the day of the accident he was engaged at his duties as usual directly under one of the electric light company's arc lights when the light trimmer accidentally broke the globe. The glass fell all around Mr. Gresham and one of the pieces inflicted a severe cut on his right wrist. The suit for damages is the result of this accident.

The Gas company are insured against all liability of any suits to recover damages resulting through an accident, in the New York Fidelity and Casualty company and the matter was immediately turned over to them by manager Waldron of the Gas company. The insurance company have retained Messrs. Frink and Jarvis as counsel.
